Dedication . . .

We dedicate this the 38th volume of THE LOTUS, to those honored men and women who, in the past, have made Peace what she is today. With the passage of time, it is ours to prove the merit of their work and to uphold the ideals of our school as they have done.

Foreword . . .

As the world moves forward in its social, cultural, and scientific achievements to a greater civilization, so Peace does her part in the building of healthy minds and bodies and in the formation of strong characters, which will, in turn, be a vital part of this greater civilization. We have tried to show how, in the course of years, Peace has grown. Therefore, in presenting the LOTUS of 1939, we have chosen as our theme "The March of Time."

Class Poem

Dear Nineteen Hundred Thirty-nine.

To you

I write this farewell note, to send you forth
With my maternal blessing. I regret
That you must go and leave your sisters and
Your loving Alma Mater, but I know
The time has come for you to take your leave
And go out on your shining journey to
A far-off goal set up among the stars.
My child, I've trained you well these last two years,
And I have planted in your heart ideals
Which you will keep and cherish as you go
Up yonder distant path unto your heart's
Desire. A long and arduous way it is
Which you must tread, my white-clad pilgrim girl,
And one which leads up steeply, mountain path
Which sometimes you will find 'tis hard to climb,
'Tis up and up and up again until
It seems to reach the very sky, and then
Upon the utmost crag, there you will find
A city set and diademed in stars,
An alabaster city shining bright,
Your goal and purpose of your journeying,
An ideal worthy all the trials and
The struggle you must undergo; so, child,
Stop not in any pleasant valley you
May find along the way, but still press on Until you've reached resplendant heights, until You've come unto the very city of
Your deepest heart's desire. I send you forth
With all high hopes, best wishes—and I know
You will not fail.

Your Alma Mater, Peace

MARION GREY BLACK, Poet.

NORTH CAROLINA

WAKE COUNTY

Peace Junior College for Women, city of Raleigh, May 29, 1939

We, the class of '39, having reflected on our past deeds at Peace and having looked into possible future conditions at our Alma Mater, do hereby bequeath to certain parties our most valuable possessions, hoping that as time marches on, said possessions will be of some service to those we have left behind.

ARTICLE I

Section 1. To the faculty, we leave our love and best wishes for a "Peaceful" Peace after we are gone.

Sec. 2. To Dr. Pressly, we leave a schedule that will never incur conflicts.

Sec. 3. To Miss McLelland, we leave a student body of girls who drop their absence and tardy excuses in the right box.

Sec. 4. To Miss Richards, our class sponsor, we leave our heartfelt gratitude, and the hope that the next class that she sponsors will measure up to our wonderful qualities.

Sec. 5. To Miss Letitia Currie, we leave a psychology class that takes dictation in shorthand.

ARTICLE II

Section 1. To the Juniors, we leave our place as Seniors, also a little encouragement, and a great deal of sympathy.

Sec. 2. To the Preps, we leave a copyright to the expression "Hi-Yo, Silver" so they can win the stunt every year.

ARTICLE III

Section 1. To Pearl, Mamie, and the duty girls, we leave a bell for every room in the dormitories so they won't use all their strength running up and down the steps.

Sec. 2. To Mr. Gargus, we leave a family of "Rosebuds" to keep him from being lonesome at night.

Sec. 3. To the hall maids, we leave girls who love to clean their own rooms.

ARTICLE IV

Section 1. To next year's Miss Peace, Kit Rainey leaves her versatility, Sarah Beard leaves her charm, and Shorty Longest leaves her cuteness.

Sec. 2. To posterity: Mary Jane Duffin, Ruth Thomas, Helen Brent, and Buckle Dees leave their Red Pajamas, Smoek, Beer Jacket, and Cowhide Stool.

Sec. 3. To Loys Turnage and Jean Perkins; Deede and Sallye leave their "Wreck of the Hesperus" room in 319 Main.

Sec. 4. To next year's Council: Martha Eller, Mary Liz Manson, Purdie Clark, Gretchen Baldwin, and Libby Jenkins leave their executive ability.

Sec. 5. To Doris Peele, Kathleen Leonard, and Annie Lou Denning; Susan Whitfield leaves the taming of 4th floor, knowing that these quiet ones will hold down any frivolous Juniors next year.

Sec. 6. To Sara Sutton, Mimi Shaw, Leola Prince, Ethel Lytch, and Betsy Wells; Eleanora Cronartie, Edna Hatheock, Margaretha Craig, Betty Neal, and Jane Beaty leave their Venus de Milo figures.

Sec. 7. To Tony Smith, Gladys Sorenson, and Louise Niernsee; Margaret Fisher and Sara K. Parker leave their well-used and carefully followed Handbooks to guide these Juniors in perfect behavior next year.

Sec. 8. To the boarders; the day students leave their privileges with the hope that they will be used well, but not worn out.

Sec. 9. To the ambitious; Marion Grey Black leaves her poetic ability; Judy Bullock leaves her drawing ability; Jean Lindsay leaves her remarkable capacity to memorize poetry, and Laurita Coker leaves her silent nature.

Sec. 10. To Nancy Teague, Sallie Cobb leaves her nickname, "Pickle."

Sec. 11. To Mutt Andrews, Anne Boice leaves her ability to express herself.

Sec. 12. To Alice Roberson and Christina Creekmore; Harriet Sutherland and Caroline DeVane leave their blonde beauty.

Sec. 13. This is an unlucky section, so we'll omit it.

Sec. 14. To Caroline Newbold, Betsy Hutchinson leaves her dancing ability.

ARTICLE V

As executor of this our last will and testament we name our trusted successors, the Juniors, to carry out in full each and every clause herein contained.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of 1939, do hereunto set our hands and seals, this twenty-ninth day of May, in the year of Our Lord, 1939,

Class of '39,

FLORENCE BOSTICK, Testator.

History

May 28, 1939

The night before graduation

Dear Diary,

How time does march on! Just think, practically two years have passed since we were entering the portals of dear old Peace for the first time, ignorant and very frightened Freshmen. And now, tomorrow night, we step forth from the stage to receive that scroll of paper which shall testify to the world at large that we have completed the course, and, incidentally, our period of life here at Peace. Yet, it is thrilling, too, to think that we shall be a part of that great mass of crimson roses against shimmering white dresses which for sixty-six Commencements have received diplomas from Peace.

Those first gay weeks of rushing and parties, which helped us to get over that feeling of homesickness—shall I ever forget them! And then came the necessity of settling down to hard study. Our first serious choice as a unified Junior group was the selection of class president, Libby Jenkins, small in stature but dynamic in personality, and our representative on the Student Council, Helen Purdie Clark.

Then came the Christmas pageant and the decoration of the traditional Christmas tree by our class.

Junior-Senior came soon after our return from the holidays. It was planned like a tour to distant lands (with an orchestra, too!). We proudly hoped it was a success.

Marshals for the two literary societies came from our class. They were Margaret Fisher, Chief Marshal, Pi; Sallie Cobb and Marion Grey Mitchell, Pi; Harriet Sutherland and Evelyn Crumpler, Sig.

Weren't we proud when the pulchritude of several members of our class was given tribute in the selection of the May Court of 1938? Harriet Sutherland was the Sleeping Beauty around whom the theme of May Day was centered. Among the Queen's attendants were: Helen Clark, Kit Rainey, Sarah Beard, Mildred Ferguson, Laura Ellis, Evelyn Crumpler, and Nell Clifton.

And then Commencement, 1938, and we were busy thinking of ourselves as the new seniors! There was much excitement, and many congratulations at the end of the year over selections of officers for the coming year '38-39. Helen Clark was made the responsible President of the Student Body. Libby Jenkins, our first class president, became head of the P.S.C.A. Our new class president was Gretchen Baldwin.

Honors go to the day students for the many positions of responsibility they have held this year. Kit Rainey edited The Loves, our annual, with the efficient assistance of her Business Manager, Elizabeth Mordecai. (Figuratively speaking, these two are the oldest members of our class, since they were Prep students at Peace, too.) Florence Bostick was the able president of the Papyrus Club, as well as Class Testator. Marion Grey Black, a brilliant student, was our Class Poet. Under the exertions of Kit Rainey, president of the Day Students, the new Day Student Council came into existence. Members of this body were: Doris Askew, Claire Freeman, Betty Lou Fletcher, Margaret Martin, and Fran Rainey.

The school magazine, Voices of Peace, was edited by Susan Whitfield and Anna Belle Boyd, as Editor and Business Manager, respectively.

This year, the Daughters Club was revived by Mrs. Worth, our faculty adviser for the annual. Seniors whose mothers or grandmothers attended Peace are Sallie Pitt Cobb, Anne Boice, Betsy Hutchinson, Sara K. Parker, Elizabeth Mordecai, Julia Proctor, and Sallie M. Sloan.

And then, Diary dear, we started this year some work with other student organizations! We are proud for our school to become a member of the N. C. Collegiate Press Association. Both our annual and magazine became members of that organization this year. But we are prouder yet to have charter members of the Gamma Phi Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the national Junior College Honor Society: Claire Freeman, Helen Purdie Clark, Sallie Pitt Cobb, Marion Grey Black, and Susan Whitfield.

We aren't forgetting Stunt Night, when we presented "A Peace-ful Night." We thought it clever, but the judges decided to "Revere the Prep."

More exams, and finally spring and vacation.

The last of the year has been made delightful by the many entertainments given to our class—Junior-Senior, and graduation parties galore.

It is sad to think that we must part with these experiences, like none we shall have elsewhere, but the fact that we may take their memory with us through the rest of our lives somewhat compensates for their loss. Rich in Christian influences and the gay fellowship of our Peace days, we go forward tomorrow with heads held high and smiles that hide our tears.

SUSAN WHITFIELD, Historian.

Time Marches On!

As radio announcer and controller of television at Peace College, I am announcing today the 30th anniversary of the graduation of the class of '39, which is again the most talked of class of Peace. Miss McEllland and her assistants, Jane Beatty and Helen Brent, who have long been tired of the noise made by autogyros, tied to 4th floor windows, have gotten Margaret Jewell, Frances Parker, and Mildred Ferguson interested in giving us new hangars, and we are taking this occasion to dedicate them.

We think it appropriate that this dedication falls, not only on our 30th anniversary, but also the graduation day at Peace. The daughters of Vera Edwards, Lola F. Andrews, Gertrude Tollison, Betty Neal, and Dorothy Coates are graduating, like their mothers, with flying colors, and unlike their mothers, in flying-togs.

Since Peace has become so air-minded, and the expeditions sent to the North and South Poles have been so successful, Polly Anna Johnson, instructor of aeronautics, has undertaken an expedition, accompanied by Elizabeth Mordecai, Jeanne Dozier, Kit Rainey, Ruth G. Thomas, and Ruth Pollard. Since they are necessarily absent, they have expressed their congratulations to the class of '39 in a just-received rocket message.

We are very sorry that some of our classmates cannot be with us today. Judith Bullock has become the second Jeanette MacDonald, and is working on the same lot with Carolyn Pierce, who is directing the directors how to direct. Decie Palmer, Swannanoa Branch, and Hannah Hobby were prevented from coming as they are in Germany competing in the Olympics. Mary E. Manson and Edna Hathcock are spending some time in Switzerland, where they have taken up skiing.

We are glad that so many of our classmates are here with us, and I will tell you briefly what each one has been doing. First, I will introduce the Faculty members from the class of '39. Jo Langdon and Doris Askew are Miss Pugh's assistants. The athletic department has become so large that Mrs. Darsie has Jean Lindsay in charge of riding; Alda Jones, gymnastics, and Betsy Hutchinson, swimming. Claire Freeman and Marie Weaver are the assistant dietitians, and Mary Jane Dahn, a well known psychiatrist, is helping the Dean with her "problem children."

Now as to the doings of our other class members. Sallie M. Sloan successfully submits and interprets subtle jokes for silly symphonies. Susan Whitfield is editor of the magazine The Voices of the Women of America. Sarah Beard, Margaretha Craig, Margaret Fisher, and Martha Longest are living on an island in the Pacific where they have formed an old maid's retreat. They send messages, but even for love of their classmates, they will not venture out into the world where one may chance upon a few miles. Helen Clark, in spite of all that she has had to say, has not found it presumptuous to become speaker of the House. As a poet, Marian Grey Black is to 1969 what Edna St. Vincent Millay was to 1939. Deede Bjesceglia has invented a new kind of lipstick that is luminous in the dark. Anna Belle Boyd and Libby Jenkins are living on a farm in Arizona and are proving to us that they can "Live Alone and Like It." "Orchids On Your Budget" and all. Gretchen Baldwin, Ruby Hunt, and Florence Bostick are the official chaperons for the Peace Formals. George Dees has just written the best seller "Hold Your Man." Sara K. Parker, leading debutante of 1939, now has a finishing school for sub-debs in Washington. Margaret Wolf's smile still beams at us—from tooth paste ads. Sallie Cobb has disproved the theory that gentlemen prefer blondes, and Anne Boice has just published her latest book, "How to Lengthen Your Line."

I would like to take this occasion to announce other gifts given by members of our class. Dorothy Hedgpeth, Rebecca Johnston, Martha Eller, Harriet Sutherland, and Caroline Devane have recently replaced the old elevators which the girls have grown so tired of, with escalators. Dorothy Verden, Sarah E. Terrell, Marjorie Snow, and Mary Winslow have furnished each room with telephones and television. Lucy Lee Butler, Mildred Arnaiz, and Helen Wetherington have also arranged for each girl to have a chaise longue, equipped with various shades of slip covers in order to fit the lounge's mood. Julia Proctor, Laurita Coker, and Mary Sue Rothgeb, the famous interior decorating trio, have just finished doing over the central hall and the parlors, and Eleanor Cromartie and Ruth Perkins have landscaped the campus.

And so the class of '39 marches on!

SALLYE JOSEY, Prophet.

The Lotus

The oldest record of publication of THE LOTUS goes back to 1902. We cannot say whether this is the first annual published at Peace, but we are certain the issue of 1939 will not be the last, because THE LOTUS, in presenting a view of school life and activities, is an integral part of Peace.

It has been a privilege and a pleasure to produce THE LOTUS. We have tried to please you, and to give you a book among the pages of which you will find pleasure in the years to come.

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all those whose interest and co-operation have made this publication possible. Dr. Pressly's patience in explaining details, Mrs. Worth's advice and help, have more than lightened the task of the staff. The assistant editor, Deede Biscaglia, has been more than willing at all times to assist. To Florence Bostick, the seniors owe appreciation for the splendid material which she has prepared for their section. The efficiency of our associate editors, Laura Self, Betsy Peery, and Mary Louise Schweikert, has been an inspiration to the whole staff. To Miss Mabel Pugh, our art adviser, and to Sallye Josey, our art editor, we owe deepest gratitude for the excellent work the art staff has done for this annual. Helen Brent has been more than valuable in editing the athletic section; Georgie Dees has been seen frequently around the campus with a camera, and the results are to be seen in this book; and last, but by no means least, we are indebted to Mildred Ferguson for the humor in this publication.

Without the efforts of the business staff, the most tireless work of the editorial staff would have been in vain. Under the efficient management of Elizabeth Mordecai, Sarah Beard, and Miss Kirkpatrick, our advertising staff has done an admirable piece of work.

We hope that you will like this book as much as we have liked editing it for you.

Voices of Peace

The magazine, Voices of Peace, was first published so far as records show in December 1889. A second copy was published the next month, January 1890. This first volume had a staff of six editors and a business manager. At this time, the magazine was issued six times a year by the literary society. There is also a copy of Volume III, Number 1 issued in December 1894. Copies of these old issues are to be seen in the Burwell Library.

Voices of Peace then seems to have been discontinued until January 1920. At this time, four copies a year were issued alternately by the two literary societies. The editor-in-chief alternated from the two societies. Dorothy Blount served as editor for the Sigma Phi Kappa society, and Dorothy Lunley was editor for the Pi Theta Mu society. Their assistants were four associate editors and four business managers. These older issues are quite similar to the general make-up of the magazine today; however, there are more pages in these earlier issues, and in every issue quite a few pages are devoted to very interesting advertisements. Each issue contained a Peace directory, giving the officers of the various organizations and classes.

Voices of Peace was issued fairly regularly until the year 1922-23, when there is no record of its publication. It was revived again in December 1924, under the editorship of Olive Pittman, '25 (Mrs. D. C. Worth). The staff then consisted of five associate editors and a business manager. Publication continued until May 1931, when it was again discontinued due to the depression.

In the fall of 1936 the Papyrus Club was organized. Its membership is limited to fifteen seniors and fifteen juniors who are elected each year on the basis of their work in English and their interest in journalism. The Voices of Peace appeared again in December 1936, under the auspices of the Papyrus Club. The copies for 1936-37 were mimeographed. The staff consisted of an editor-in-chief, a business manager, an assistant business manager, two literary editors, two news editors, and a feature editor. In the following year, the published issues with which we are familiar were begun.

The Penny Players

"The Penny Players," the dramatic club of Peace College, was founded in 1936 by a group of students who desired to pursue the study of dramatic art.

A brief study of voice, diction, and play construction constitutes our fall activities. Several one-act plays are given as a culmination of these studies.

In the winter the chief project is the production of a three-act play. Radio training and play writing occupy the spring term. A thorough course in make-up is also included.

Hockey

For the past two years, hockey has been one of the most popular sports offered at Peace. Each year, three teams are organized: Senior, Junior, and Prep. During the time we have had hockey at Peace, the girls have taken an enthusiastic interest in the sport. Many have shown unusual skill in the development of such feats as passing, dribbling, and tackling. The Peace girls feel that, in this modern age, women should become a live factor in the field of sports.

The students who do not play on the various teams give their loyal support to their classmates who fight for them on the hockey field. The hard fought games in the tournaments at the end of the season prove that the girls receive valuable training in teamwork and sportsmanship by participating in this athletic activity.

Archery

Archery, a new sport at Peace in '38, has become one of the major sports this year. The students at Peace find this one-time weapon of the American Indian a pleasing pastime. They realize the value received from such a sport as archery, for activity in this field develops a keen eye, a steady hand, and a good posture.

Peace girls find the standard English bow well suited to their individual taste. Various colored crests are painted on the arrows to prevent confusion of scores when the arrows are taken from the target. Quite a number of students have their equipment, and show signs of becoming real Robin Hoods.

Goodman, Harper, Perkins, Lindsay, Schweikert, Brent, Andrews, Thomas, Pressly, Ferguson, Roach, Chambliss.

Tennis

Peace has three excellent tennis courts, which are available to the students throughout the entire school year. Each girl is asked to supply her own racket and balls. This sport gives the Peace girl a chance to exercise during her leisure time. Instructions for playing tennis are given in gym classes during the fall term.

Tennis was one of the most popular sports indulged in by former daughters of Peace, who tripped lightly across the tennis courts in their voluminous skirts, in pursuit of elusive tennis balls. Today, during the warm spring days of March and April, the courts fairly teem with the activity of students practicing for the singles and doubles tournaments which are played off the first weeks in May. In '38 the Athletic Association at Peace sent representatives to take part in the tennis tournament of the annual College Play Day, which was held at Duke University.

Field Ball

Field Ball is a new sport at Peace this year. This game has replaced basketball, which was offered at Peace in the days when the middy blouse and long black bloomers were in vogue as a gym costume. In field ball, the girls find a source of lively and beneficial play out-of-doors. Under the expert guidance of Mrs. James Darsie, head of physical education department, the girls have taken an active interest in this game. Out of the number of girls eligible, teams are selected to represent the different classes; Senior, Junior, and Prep. The tournament games are played off the last of March, before the spring vacation.

With such an enthusiastic start the girls at Peace hope to continue with the game and make it one of the leading sports Peace has to offer.

Bicycle Club

Most Peace girls enjoy bicycling around the campus and in the vicinity of the college.

Horseback Riding

Horseback riding is increasing in popularity year by year at Peace. The girls go a few miles out of the city of Raleigh to the riding club. Well gaited and safe horses are used. Many happy jaunts are taken together on the bridle paths through the beautiful Carolina countryside.

The modern daughters of Peace thoroughly enjoy this wholesome sport. The girls ride English style. Expert instruction is given by the Physical Education instructor. If a girl has not ridden before, it is possible for her to remain in the riding ring to receive instruction before going out on the trail.

Hiking

Hiking groups are highly organized and each girl in school is given the opportunity to hike every day if she so wishes.

Alma Mater

In the heart of Carolina,
'Neath its skies of blue,
Stands our noble Alma Mater,
Glorious to view,
Classic in her brood proportions,
Looks she proudly down—
Reared against the arch of heaven,
With the stars for crown.

Chorus

Lift the chorus, speed it onward;
Let it never cease;
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater;
Hail, all hail to Peace!

Clambering o'er the walls and columns
Historic ivies twine,
As pure love and tenderest memory
In our hearts enshrine
Days of toil and days of pleasure,
Happiness and joy
Hardship, struggles without measure,
Days without alloy.

Honored be our Alma Mater,
Honored for her past;
Honored in the living present,
Let her honors last!
Long as time shall tell the story,
Long as hearts are true,
May her name be crowned with glory
And honors ever new!

MISS NANNIE DINWIDDIE.

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to cooperate with the staff in creating their vision into material form.

Such cooperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

To those Staffs desiring complete cooperation, we offer unexcelled service.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
